SCHOOLBOY STRUCK BY AUTO

Accident on Reading Road Proves Fatal to Seven-Year-Old Vincent Lynch—Lawrence Man Held Under Bail for Hearing on Monday

While crossing the Reading road just above Carter's corner late yesterday afternoon, Vincent Lynch, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Malachi Lynch of Rocky Hill road, was hit and carried several feet by an automobile and died less than fifteen minutes later at the Lawrence General Hospital.

Hollis W. Gibbs, truck driver of 124 Cedar street, Haverhill, who was proceeding along the Reading road just behind Mr. Fitzgerald, assisted him to place the injured boy in the Nash sedan which he was driving when the accident occurred, and taking his place behind the steering wheel drove them to Andover in search of a doctor.

Being unsuccessful after several attempts the Fitzgerald car was driven to the Lawrence General Hospital where the lad was found to be suffering from a fractured skull, deep lacerations of the scalp, and abrasions of the right side and right ankle. He died less than five minutes after admittance.

From four o'clock until nearly six, in spite of the efforts of Andover police, the boy remained unidentified. As many families in that vicinity are without telephones, Chief Smith drove to Scotland district, and after talking with several boys, discovered the name of the victim of the accident.

Young Lynch and a companion named Hey, who lives on Rattlesnake Hill road, alighted from a southbound trolley car about four o'clock. Lynch started to cross the road and when about half way across was struck by the Nash sedan driven by Arthur Fitzgerald. His companion, horrified at the sight as his chum fell before the machine, ran home, not knowing how seriously he was injured. Although Hey had told members of his own family, neither the police nor Mr. and Mrs. Lynch were informed until nearly two hours later.

When the police were notified that the child had died, Mr. Fitzgerald was arrested. After a hearing before Judge Stone he was released under $300 bonds to appear on April 9.

Good Friday Union Service

The annual Good Friday union service will be held in Christ church this evening. The message of the Cross is interwoven in our life and in this service its universal appeal is emphasized each year by this united observance of Christian churches in Andover.

The message will be interpreted by two of Andover's favorite singers, J. Everett Collins, baritone, and Howard Gates, tenor. Mr. Collins will sing "Lord God of Abraham" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and Mr. Gates will sing "King Ever Glorious" by Stainer. "Oh Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition" by Stainer.

The recitor of Christ church will speak on "The Astonishing Contrasts of the Cross." The offering will be for the Andover Guild.

HOLDMID-WINTERREUNION

There was general dancing, music being furnished by the Band of Cavaliers. The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Mervin E. Stevens. Favors were distributed to the marchers, boutonnières to the men and colonial bouquets and butterflies to the ladies. Ice cream was served at intermission.

The matrons were Mrs. William A. Stevens, Mrs. Paul Simeone, Mrs. M. E. Dalton, Mrs. Joseph Lynch and Mrs. Irving Shaw.

The members of the committee of arrangements were Mrs. David May, Frank Petty and Miss Eleanor Downs.

Egg Hunt Tomorrow

Children between the ages of six and twelve years as well as many older persons are looking forward to Andover's first community egg hunt to be held on the Park tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

No children will be allowed on the Park until after the signal bugle has been sounded by Helen Ripley and Grace Hatch which will be about two o'clock. No grown-ups will be allowed within bounds during the hunt except those who are the official directors and wear the lily badge. Parents and older children who wish to watch the fun are asked to take their places on the Punched grounds.

The Sons of Veterans have been invited through Commander Charles G. Kibbee to assist in keeping the Park clear until the blowing of the bugle. Others who will assist will be a troop of Boy Scouts under John Schermer, the Merit Badge Scouts under Dr. Nathaniel Stowers, the Girl Scouts under Miss Elizabeth Flagg.

The candy eggs will be wrapped in bright colored tinfoil to protect them from the dirt. Other treasures to search for will include hen eggs, painted nest eggs, nests and baskets of eggs, chicks and rabbits.

The community has responded to assisting in the arrangements in a most generous and gratifying manner and all that is needed to crown the occasion with success is fair weather.

POLICE OFFICER INJURED

Accidental Discharge of Pistol Causes Bullet to Enter Hand of Officer Walker As He Is About to Go on Duty

Patrolman James Walker, policeman in Shawheen Village for the last five years and recently appointed sergeant in the Andover police department, is at the Shawheen hospital with two bullet wounds in his right hand.

Patrolman Walker was accidentally shot in the small police shelter at Shawheen center about seven o'clock Tuesday morning. It is believed he was putting his revolver in the holster with his left hand, while he held the bottom of the holster with his right, and while in this act, the gun jammed in some unknown manner and exploded, two bullets passing through the holster and striking the officer's right hand.

The wounded policeman was in the act of relieving patrolman John Deyernmond when the accident happened. Officer Deyernmond said that he heard a noise but paid no attention to it until he observed Officer motioning to him. He walked over to the shelter to find Officer Walker suffering from wounds. Dr. W. D. Walker of Andover was called and after first aid treatment the injured policeman was removed to the Shawheen hospital.

The gun was a new one, according to the police authorities, who are at a loss to explain how it could explode. Officer Walker has been on the force for five years, serving all of his time at the Shawheen post. He was a special officer before receiving a permanent appointment. It was only last week that the board of selectmen named him a sergeant, but he had not yet taken up his new duties.

The result of Dr. Walker's examination was announced early Tuesday afternoon and it showed that only one bullet had struck the officer's hand. The slug pierced the fleshy part of the hand while the second bullet entered the wall of the shelter.

Mr. Walker was able to be removed to his home on Thursday.

At 1.30 p. m. on Monday the fire department answered a call to extinguish a grass fire on the land owned by Fred Gould of South Main street.

At 2.40 p. m. the department was again called out to put out a grass fire on Oak street.

The fire department was called out several times Tuesday to extinguish brush and grass fires. The first alarm was from Box 4 at 9.55 a. m. for a grass fire on the property of the American Woolen company on Lowell street.

The second alarm was from Box 4 at 1.10 p. m. The fire was on the property of Patrick Donovan and others off Agillia road. The department was called back to this fire which broke out again at 2.20 p. m. The final call was a still alarm and was on town land near the public dump on High street.

On Wednesday the department responded to four alarms, from Box 4 and one still alarm as follows:

At 10.50 a. m., for a brush fire on the grounds of the Andover Country club at the corner of Chandler road and Beacon street.

At 3.00 p. m., for a grass fire on the land of Bertram George, Haverhill street.

At 3.30 p. m., for a grass fire on land of Smith & Dove off Moraine street.

At 4.20 p. m., for a grass fire in St. Augustine's cemetery.

On Thursday the fire alarms were as follows: A still alarm for a grass fire at the Canoe club. A still alarm for a grass fire near Rabbit's pond. An alarm from Box 4 at 12.20 for a grass fire on Phillips street. An alarm from Box 4 at 1.30 for a grass fire on land on Burnham road.

Be Fair With Your Eyes

An article in the recent "Commonwealth" says "Don't blame your eyes if they protest against being used three or four hours in the evening". Remember you have kept them on duty all day in the office. We cannot help but marvel at the way our eyes stand up under misuse.

The amount of work which normal eyes will do varies greatly with different individuals. Many eyes which are normal by all usual tests will not work comfortably for any length of time simply because there is not the necessary amount of general stamina behind them. It is like trying to run a perfect engine without sufficient steam. They cannot be forced.

Reading on trains and street cars is tiring because of both the motion and the poor quality of light which is usually present. Moving pictures are probably not harmful to most eyes. If you find them fatiguing avoid them. Reading in bed is not harmful when there is good light and the person is propped up to a semi-sitting position.

If you have much discomfort from bright light, get some tinted glasses of good quality from a reliable optician or on the prescription of an oculist. Such glasses are made in different degrees of tint and are not conspicuous. Do not pick up cheap blue smoked or amber glasses anywhere. The glass may be so irregular that it will make you dizzy and the protection is not of the best. Plain water in the eyes is somewhat irritating. As a rule, hot bathing, or hot followed by a dash of cold, is preferable. Prolonged cold applications should be made to normal eyes, especially in older people.

Around the age of forty-five there comes to everybody with normal eyes a time when the numbers in the telephone book begin to be hard to read and all reading matter has to be held farther away from the eyes than formerly. To many this causes a fright and the feeling that something serious is vision going on is really a perfectly natural event and is due to the normal diminution in the focusing power of the eye at this age. The remedy is to have proper glasses for near work. They need not be strong to start with.

To summarize:
1. Make sure that your eyes are normal, by a proper examination.
2. There is a limit to the amount of work which normal eyes will stand. This limit varies with different individuals and with the general bodily health and vigor.
3. Give your eyes the best possible working conditions.
4. Keep in the best possible general condition and be forewarned of bodily ailments which may affect eyes, by proper routine examinations.

Calvary Baptist Church Notes

On Thursday evening, April 12, the annual meeting of the church and congregation of Calvary Baptist church, Lawrence, will be held. Reports from all departments will be made.

Applications Are Being Filed for Citizens Military Training Camps

Applications for places in the First Corps Area Citizens' Military Training Camps continue to pour into C. M. T. C. Office at Army Base, Boston, Mass. It is predicted that after April 15th applications will have to be filed on a "waiting list."

Although the Camps will not open until July 5th, it was announced today by First Lieut. George R. Burgess, C. A. C., C. M. T. C. Officer at First Corps Area Headquarters, that all previous records have been smashed by the current enrollment of over 3,200 youths of the New England States. With over 2,800 of these already accepted and definitely assigned to one of the four camps to be held in the First Corps Area this year, it appears evident that the 1928 C. M. T. C. campaign for candidates will be successfully completed far earlier than at first anticipated.

Nathan C. Hamblin, Principal of the Pynchard High School, has charge of the local enrollment.

THEATRES

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

Adolphe Menjou, the world's most famous "other man", by virtue of his ability on the screen — of stealing feminine hearts, plays the role of the dashing Captain Ferrol of the French-African Chasseurs in his latest Paramount starring vehicle, "A Night of Mystery" which is the forthcoming screen feature at the Metropolitan theatre, Boston, starting Friday.

Adapted from the famous stage play "Captain Ferrol" by Sardou, this Menjou production is hailed as one of the most distinctive he has appeared in in recent years. The story, adapted by Ernest Vajda, the Hungarian playwright, contains many tense scenes and is described as sheer drama all the way through. As Capt. Ferrol, Menjou spurs the love of a married woman for the affection of a young girl, sees a man murdered as he is breaking off his love affair with the first, and in a breathtaking climax voluntarily confesses to the murder in order to save the reputation of the married woman who loves him, and at the same time, save the brother of his fiancée from the gallows.

The picture was directed by Lothar Mendes, European director, and supervised by Vajda himself. Menjou has two leading women, Evelyn Brent and Norma Lee. Other in the cast are William Collier, Jr., Raoul Paoli, Claude King, and Frank Leigh.

The stage production is very collegiate to judge by its name, "Rah, Rah, Rah". Produced by Jack Partington, this Public unit will feature, as usual, Gene Rodemich and the popular Metropolitan stage band. Rodemich, however, will parcel out only a few of the jazz and swing tunes for the Collegiate Band, aided and abetted by Johnny Perkins, who also provides rhythmic numbers. Others listed in the large and talented cast which has been assembled include Lola Lee, Al Gale and Joe Keith's Co-eds, all notable vaudeville headliners. Showmen subjects, an Arthur Martel Organ novelty, an overture by the Grand Orchestra and a Paramount news weekly will round out the bill. The Salon Ensemble under the direction of Arthur Geissler, appears Sunday afternoon with Frank Macdonald, concert master, as soloists in a concert of chamber music.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE

Francine LaRimore comes on April 9 to the Plymouth theatre, Boston, in the widely discussed satirical comedy "Chicago" which has recently closed a run of a year on Broadway.

There is no other company en route presenting this play, and LaRimore created the role and has played it continuously since its New York opening. Miss LaRimore, one of the younger stars, needs no introduction since her work in New York and on tour in "Scandal", "Nice People", to mention her most recent hits. "Chicago" has been the great vogue for her talents of any play in which she has yet appeared.

The idea for "Chicago" came to Miss Watkins, the author, while she was a reporter on the Tribune in Chicago, covering murder trials in the Cook County courts. Almost all the incidents in the play were suggested by cases which she covered at one time or another in Chicago.

"Chicago" opens with a scene in a cheap tawdry flat on the south side of Chicago, and the play progresses through a scene in the women's section of the Cook County jail, and a Cook County court room. The play was written by Chicago, the matron of the jail attended and her comment was "I never wore a blue uniform. Mine were always white, as Miss Watkins must remember." Otherwise the matron found herself at home in the settings before her.

SHUBERT THEATRE

A play that was the beginning of stardom for two now famous actresses and the beginning of fame for the playwright Bayard Veillier will come to the Shubert theatre, Boston, beginning Monday night, April 9th when "Within the Law" is presented. The play, written by John G. Boyd, is a New York run and with the New York all star cast, including Violet Heming, Robert Warwick, Charles Ray, Fritz Scheff, William Courtright, May Robson, Berton Churchill, Ruth Shepley, Stanley Logan, Farnell Pratt and many other favorites with local theatre-goers.

When "Within the Law" was produced 16 years ago it was the first play to show the police using the third degree and the presentation of this play was largely responsible for changes ordered by officials in police methods. John G. Boyd earned his stardom in the role of Mary Turner, now played by beautiful Violet Heming. Mary Turner is the brains of a gang of blackmailers who know enough laws never to be caught. At the same time Florence Nash created the role of Jessie Lynch, the gay little crook that Mary Turner teaches to be a "lady." This role is played by Fritz Scheff in the revival cast. Another feature of this great array of stars is that of the first appearance of Charles Ray, the movie star, on the legitimate stage. Many of the artists playing in this remarkable company have not been seen in Boston for years but their names and ability are well known. It was only because of the importance of the play that they were induced to join the company for its brief visit to the most important cities. Popular priced matinees will be on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

THE REPERTORY THEATRE

The famous Robertson comedy "School" which has been so successfully revived at The Repertory Theatre is proving so very popular that it is to be given for another week. It is one of the most characteristic and entertaining of Robertson's entire series of comedies, and at its original production by the Bancrofts enjoyed an unprecedented run.

There is illusion and charm in every episode of "School", from the rising of the first curtain on a group of girls, from sixteen years upward, to the fall of the final curtain when an English nobleman fits a glass slipper to his wife's foot to the pleasure of everybody on the stage and in the auditorium. In fact, "School" is a modern and revised version of the story of Cinderella, a tale that is always popular. It is filled with sentiment and fantasy, with youthfulness and sincerity. Its revival has brought to The Repertory Theatre a play that is old yet never new, more than usually welcome because it tells a romantic story in a most unusual way.

The cast for "School" at The Repertory includes Edith Barrett as Bella, Katharine Warren as Naomi, Olga Birkbeck as Mrs. Sutcliffe, Thomas Shearer as Dr. Sutcliffe, Arthur Sircom as Krus, William Faversham as Lord Beaumont, Milton Owen as Jack Poyntz and Arthur Bowyer as Beau Farintosh.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Cecil B. DeMille's supreme dramatic spectacle, "The King of Kings", comes to the Colonial theatre, Boston, next Monday evening, April 9th, for a very brief return engagement. Following the opening two performances will be given daily, at 2.15 and 8.15 o'clock, accompanied by a special touring orchestra. In order to accommodate out-of-town patrons, mail orders, when accompanied by check or money order and self-addressed, stamped envelope, will be filled in the order received. Prices for the evening performances are 50c, 75c, $1.10 and $1.65. At the daily matinee, 50c, 75c and $1.10. All seats are reserved.

This wonderful picture dramatization of the life of Christ enlisted the energies of the DeMille organization for a year. Included the acting of hundreds of fine players and the construction of tremendous sets of Bible scenes such as have never before been attempted. For the first time a producer re-created the Temple at Jerusalem, the Palace of Herod and many other historical locales of the Gospel story. As an example of the physical elaborateness, it is worth mentioning that 10,000 objects or properties pertaining to the primitive Christian era were made and used.

Jennie Macpherson, with her adaptation and Mr. DeMille with his directing genius are said by all the reviewers to have made the history live and to have surpassed in tenderness, humanity and gripping dramatic power any previous handling of the great theme whether by stage or screen.

"The King of Kings" is offered as a tremendous eye-and-ear entertainment containing all the elements that make the theatre a place of mental refreshment and pleasure.

Household and Industrial Fuel Bill of New England to Be Reduced

We are informed by The White Oak Coal Company of Macdonald, West Virginia that the Interstate Commerce Commission has just handed down a decision effective June 5, 1928, which will greatly reduce the household and industrial fuel bill in New England.

The Commerce Commission ruling will permit, beginning June 5, 1928, the all-rail shipment of West Virginia Low Volatile Run-of-mine coal and slack in addition to Lump, Egg and Stove to all points in New England.

Previous to this ruling only Lump, Egg and Stove West Virginia Low Volatile Coal could be shipped all rail and only to points on the New York, New Haven & Hartford, railroad and Boston & Maine railroad.

All Rail shipments of West Virginia Low Volatile Run-of-mine and slack were prohibited previous to this decision.

This favorable decision is in direct response to the urgent request of the New England Governors' Fuel Committee of which committee Governor Fuller of Massachusetts was the originator.

The Fuel Committee was represented by Senator Edward W. Goss of Waterbury, Conn., the Boston Chamber of Commerce by Mr. W. H. Day, in fact many trade associations in New England appeared before the Interstate Commerce Commission to urge that the Run-of-mine and Slack coal be permitted to be shipped into New England.

Great credit is due the wholehearted and intelligent manner in which these representatives of New England industry handled this very important matter.

Following is the personnel of The New England Governors' Fuel Committee: Conn., Governor John H. Trumbull; Maine, Governor Ralph O. Brewster; Mass., Governor Alvan T. Fuller; N. H., Governor John G. Winant; R. I., Governor Aram J. Pothier; Vt., Governor Franklin S. Boyd.

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

Looking Back Twenty-five Years

Miss Mary H. Foster is ill with diphtheria. Mrs. John Adams has moved from Barnard street to Morton.

E. M. & W. A. Allen have erected a mortar and pestle on a post at the edge of the sidewalk in the Square.

After stock had been taken at T. A. Holt & Co.'s store last Friday night, the employees enjoyed a supper at the Phillips Inn.

Warren K. Moorehead, curator of the Archaeology Department at Phillips academy, started for the Ozark mountains yesterday.

Miss Lena Lindsay, who is teaching school at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adair Lindsay, on Washington avenue.

Thursday, April 2, is a date that will not soon be forgotten by the members of Lincoln lodge, No. 78, A. O. U. W., or of Shawheen lodge, No. 21, D. of H., while pleasant remembrances of the evening of that day will linger long with ninety-eight members of Burrill lodge, No. 53, A. O. U. W., and Newell lodge, D. of H., of Haverhill.

The occasion, a sort of a triple celebration, Lincoln lodge celebrating the advent of its 200th member, Shawheen of its 100th, while both lodges were observing their anniversaries, took the form of a supper with speech making, drilling and dancing held in the Town hall, with the visiting lodges from Haverhill as invited guests.

During the supper which was served to almost three hundred persons, the orchestra rendered a splendid musical program. A notable and popular number was the piccolo solo, the "Chirp Chirp" polka by Edward R. Foster. Mr. Foster's solo was received enthusiastically and he was kind enough to respond. Master Workman James Napier of Lincoln lodge was the presiding officer. Among the speakers were: P. G. M. W., Theodore Violette of South Framingham, Assistant Supervisor O. B. Dow of Haverhill, Past Grand Chief of Honor, Mrs. Beatrice Nichols of Hartford, Conn., P. G. C. of H., Mrs. Ida Nickerson of Gloucester, Representative John N. Cole, D. D. G. M. W., Will Wheeler of Haverhill and E. E. Trefry of Lincoln lodge, chairman of the committee of arrangements.

The supper was in charge of the ladies of Shawheen lodge, with the following committee: Mrs. Edward Howarth, chairman, Mrs. T. E. Rhodes, Mrs. J. H. Playdon, Mrs. Frederick Hulme, Mrs. Austin Poland, and Mrs. Charles Jewett. A. L. Whittemore assisted the ladies in preparing the supper. Walter Rhodes acted as head waiter.

Miss Sara Poor returned last Friday from a lengthy visit at Bay Side, R. I.

Miss Helen E. Bodwell of Mt. Holyoke college is at home for the spring vacation.

Miss Mary King Marland of Wellesley college has been spending the past week in town.

Tuesday, the electric car men saw a white owl near Hinton's ice creamery. From the distance it looked so large and massive that some on the car mistook it for an eagle. Upon arriving in Reading, Del Harris happened to be waiting in the Square for a car and straightaway he hastened for his trusty firearm. Mr. Owl was there and his wing received the shot. The bird was only wounded and at last reports was living in captivity. It was a white Arctic owl, which is very rarely found here.

Last Friday night the Pynchard vaudeville occurred in the Town hall for the benefit of the alumni association. The program has begun at eight o'clock by selections rendered in an excellent manner by the Andover Band orchestra. Then four members of the P. A. Mandolin club, led by E. C. Boynton, played a very pretty selection and were recalled. Prof. Charles H. Wilson, the well-known prestidigitator from Boston, was the next attraction with his feats of magic and sleight of hand. Following this, the minstrel sketch by several P. A. students had its place on the program. A series of tableaux, given under the direction of Miss Caroline Abbott, were very pretty and well arranged.

As follows: "Penelope Boothby," Miss Elizabeth Abbott; "Queen Louise," Miss Florence Baldwin, Maude Meader and Clara Clemons; "The Angelus," Miss Maude Meader and Charles Burt. A selection by the orchestra followed, and then Percy F. Gilbert gave one of his comical dialogues. The mandolin quartette played another selection after which the curtain rose on the French vaudeville sketch, "Madame Jeanne." Those who took part were Frank P. Higgins, Miss Harriet G. Dodson and

Slattery Class Is Hostess

Members of the Margaret Slattery class of the Free Church were hostesses on last Friday evening to the younger people of the parish at an entertainment program presented in the church vestry. Games were enjoyed during the evening and a moving picture featuring Douglas Fairbanks in "The Americano" was presented through the courtesy of Carl Currier, Eagle-Tribune staff photographer.

The committee in charge: Miss Marion Elliott, Winnie Roy, Grace Lake, Sadie MacLeish, Bessie Coutts and Jessie Robertson.

Junior High School Notes

Through the cooperation of the School Committee the boys of the Stowe Junior High School will again have baseball instruction on Tuesdays and Thursdays after school under James Cole whose work was so acceptable last year. Participation for all, rather than intensive team training for the few, which is the accepted rule in school athletics, is to be the objective this season. It is a matter much to be regretted that the playfield is still unavailable for use.

On Tuesday, April 17, after school, there will be a sale under the auspices of several of the school "clubs". A variety of useful, pretty articles will be for sale, also home-cooked food, groceries, etc. The proceeds will be used to pay for the school stereopticon which is a great addition to the equipment. Further details will be given next week.

The School Council is giving some attention to the matter of Junior High School Guidance, along with the routine business.

Eighth Grade organization is taking place in anticipation of handling matters relative to the end of the year. It is earnestly hoped that no epidemic or other misfortune will prevent the usual graduating exercises this year.

American Forestry Week will be observed from April 22 to 28 in accordance with the proclamation of President Coolidge. A special program will be prepared including proper recognition of Arbor Day, which is April 28.

The Glee Club, under Miss Sweeney, is hard at work on an Operetta to be given sometime in May.

School exhibitions of work completed are to be given in the near future. It is hoped every one will see them.

Herbert S. Stillings. The committee of arrangements consisted of Albert W. Lowe, president of the association, Charles W. Clark, William A. Trow, Charles H. Shearer, Emanuel Downing, Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, Mrs. David Shaw, Miss Anna B. Abbott, and Miss Caroline Abbott.

Both Phillips academy and the town of Andover have reason to be proud of the event which took place on Zion's hill last Saturday afternoon, an event which drew upon Andover and its famous preparatory school the gaze of scientific and learned men, as well as the everyday mortal, who only knew that the occasion was unusual, one of which he should not be ignorant. The opening of a new department is not merely an episode in the life and welfare of an institution, it is much more; it is an epoch.

opening of the department of Archaeology at Phillips academy marks a departure, a broadening, a first step into new fields not yet attempted in any other preparatory school in the world. The opening last Saturday, coming as it did so shortly before the 125th anniversary of the academy which occurs on the 21st of the month, made the event one of greater significance and holds forth alluring prospects for the future. A thousand invitations had been issued, going to all the noted archaeologists in the country as well as to individuals prominent in art and letters, business and society, so that the hundreds who approached the handsome structure on Main street at the corner of Phillips, ascended the broad flight of marble steps to the solid door of oak, above which is the carved inscription, "Department of Archaeology", entered and assembled in the lecture hall on the third floor, completed a gathering, notable in many respects. Dr. Charles Peabody, honorary director of the new department, called upon Dr. Alexander McKenzie of Cambridge to offer prayer. Dr. Peabody in behalf of the founders, turned over the department to the trustees, represented by the president, Robert R. Bishop, LL.D. of Newton. Other speakers included Vice Principal Alfred E. Stearns, M. A., logical seminary and Frederick Ward Putnam, President Charles O. Day of the Andover Theological Seminary at Harvard university. This brought the formal portion of the exercises to a close, and the guests were entrusted to the ladies who served tea, coffee, punch, cream, and sherberts. Mrs. William B. Graves, Mrs. E. Y. Hincks, Mrs. Warren K. Moorehead, Mrs. James C. Sawyer, Miss Boshier and Miss Bacon presided at the various tables.

The first dance of the season were gathered on last Friday in the Sutton mill yard, North Andover.

Miss Rosamond Thomson of Smith college is spending the Easter recess at her home in town.

William H. Higgins has purchased of Mrs. John Adams the depot hack business formerly conducted by her husband.

At the meeting of the Board of Selectmen on Monday, Herbert S. Whitten was appointed a special police officer without pay. The Board of Fire Engineers was re-appointed consisting of Lewis T. Hardy, George D. Lawson and Allen Simpson.

Mrs. Frederick G. Moore was successfully operated upon for appendicitis the first of the week.

Miss Florence Richardson of Park street was pleasantly surprised by a party of her young lady friends, about a dozen all told, who walked into her home last evening. The girls brought Miss Florence a Pynchard pin which was received with great pleasure. Games were played and refreshments served.

West Parish

Ernest Hilton and daughter, Bernice, of Winchester, spent Sunday in town with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hilton. Mrs. Joseph Emery and son, Ralph, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hardy.

Miss Majorie Morrill is spending the Easter vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Swasey, Haverhill.

Miss Caroline J. Burt has accepted the position of teacher at the North school in this place and has resigned her place at Rochester.

IS YOUR CRANKCASE READY FOR SPRING?

Socony dealers will save the motorists of New York and New England many thousand dollars this week by asking courteously, "Is your crankcase ready for spring?"

CARS are ruined every spring because owners merely add a little clean oil to the dirty, diluted oil that has been in the crankcase all winter.

Winter driving demands repeated use of the choke. Raw gasoline seeps down and dilutes the crankcase oil—and diluted oil is almost as bad as no oil at all.

Every automobile engine accumulates dirt, and some of it eventually gathers in the bottom of the crankcase as sediment. Dirty oil ceases to be a good lubricant and tends to become a grinding compound. And grinding compounds are worse than no oil at all.

Tell the Socony man to get your crankcase ready for spring. He will drain your crankcase and flush it with Socony Flushing Oil. This cuts out all the sediment and leaves in place everywhere a thin protecting film of lubricant. Then he will fill up with Socony Motor Oil.

You pay only for the small cost of the oil. There is no charge for the service.

Socony Gasoline and Motor Oil must pass 13 rigid tests before they reach your car.

Trout Season Opens in Massachusetts on April 15

Director William C. Adams of the State Fish and Game Division has called the attention of the public to the fact that the season for trout fishing will open in this state on April 15.

No brook trout less than six inches in length may be lawfully taken and no brown, Loch Leven or rainbow trout can be taken under eight inches in length. Fishermen taking trout less than eight inches should make sure that they are not taking brown, Loch Leven or rainbow trout.

Only 25 trout are allowed to one person in one day. If two or more persons are fishing from the same boat or raft only 30 trout may be taken in the aggregate. Night fishing is prohibited from two hours after sunset to one hour before sunrise.

The sale of wild trout is positively prohibited. The open season for trout fishing will close on July 31.

Attention is also called to the fact that all persons over 18 years of age, both men and women, must have a sporting license for stocked brooks and this license may be obtained from any town or city clerk.

Detailed copies of the fish and game laws may be obtained from the local town or city clerk or from the office of the Fish and Game Division at the State House and their provisions should be carefully noted.

There are special restrictions on the Deerfield River. No trout under 12 inches in length may be taken and only 5 trout per day to each person. Fish may be taken only with a single rod and line which is to be held in the hand.

The fishing season is now closed on such species of pond fish as pickerel, black bass, horned pout, white perch and pike perch. Extreme care should be used to prevent forest fires because if our forests are destroyed fishing and hunting cannot be perpetuated. This obligation rests upon every fisherman and all others who frequent the woodlands and forests. If serious forest fires should occur it may be necessary to suspend the fishing seasons during any dry spell we may have unless strenuous precautions are taken to prevent fires.

The rights and property of the landowners must be respected by all or they will withdraw from the public privileges of access onto their lands for the purpose of fishing, hunting or other recreation. No real sportsman will be guilty of violating the privileges which are extended to them by the landowners.

Artistic Dancing Recital

The annual dancing recital by the pupils of Mrs. Arita Taft Nichols was given last Friday night in the November clubhouse and a large audience enjoyed the program.

The graceful movements in the many intricate dances reflected great credit on the pupils as well as on their teacher.

The solo dances were extremely well executed and the costumes, which were extremely attractive, added to the beauty of the occasion. All the participants were encored and several repeated their dances.

On account of illness, Bonnie Conway, Marjorie Goodrich and Josephine Pitman were unable to take part.

Miss Esther Nelson of Braintree, a pupil of Miss Nichols, and Mrs. Nichols herself, gave solo dances in a very artistic manner.

The other solo dancers all attired in appropriate costumes were Dorothy Christie in "La Petite Polonoise" and in "Wood Fairy," Isabel Fraser in a clever Spanish dance, "Flower of Spain" and Thelma Goodrich in "Valsette." Many of the dances were composed by Miss Nichols.

No small part of the success of the evening was due to the excellent work of Miss Charlotte Gillespie as accompanist. Miss Gillespie also played Mendelssohn's Andante and Rondo Capriccioso.

The dances were Franklin Belcour and Edward Weeks.

Guid Notes

Many of the Guild groups have taken an active part in making preparations for the Community Easter Egg Hunt to be conducted at two o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Park. The Women's Sewing class are working on lilies to be used as official badges for the fifty ladies supervising the hunt.

Children beyond the hunt age of twelve years are interested in soliciting and decorating eggs to be used. Thursday afternoon a committee of ladies met at the Guild to dye eggs sent in uncolored. Also other groups have enthusiastically wrapped thousands of candy eggs in bright colored tin-foil to protect them from the dirt. The Boy Scout Bugle Corps, Boy Scout Merit Badge Club and Girl Scouts have graciously consented to assist.

At the regular meeting of the Mother's Club last Wednesday afternoon a committee of ladies was appointed who will help in collecting and hiding eggs. The response from the churches, schools, and various organizations affiliated with the Guild has been most generous and from all indications the Community Easter Egg Hunt will be a big affair.

Christian Endeavor Notes

The regular weekly meeting of the South church Christian Endeavor was held Sunday evening in the South church vestry. Miss Mary Partridge led the meeting. The topic for discussion was "What Happens When Young People Dare to Follow Christ?" The leader for next Sunday is Miss Mildred Morse.

A circus preceded by a parade was the entertainment at the meeting of the Andover Business and Professional Woman's club held at the Guild house on Tuesday evening.

Miss Evelyn Parker made a spirited ring master and with pride exhibited her Siamese Twins, Dancing Midget, Glass-eater, Knife-eater, and Snake Charmer. The fattest woman in the world, who in spite of regular attendance at the Guild gymnasium classes still weighs 800 pounds provoked the most enthusiastic applause. There was also a wrestling match between two champions, the honors being equally divided. The band filled in the intervals between the events. There was also a guessing contest.

Refreshments of punch, cookies and hoodies were served.

The members of the committee of arrangements were Miss Evelyn Parker, Miss Inez Carter and Miss Beatrice Henderson.

Sunday Sports

For the second successive year the Massachusetts Legislature has rejected the bill to liberalize Sunday sports after the Legislative Committee on Legal Affairs had voted its approval. True, the vote this year, 93 for and 110 against, was even closer than last year when the bill was defeated 129 to 98. The proponents of the bill, however, are not beaten yet. Five thousand additional names on the petition will give them recourse to the referendum and from all indications the measure will receive the endorsement of the public by popular vote.

It is difficult to understand how the opponents of Sunday sports muster so much strength. Yet, the same condition existed when the amateur Sunday Sports bill was first proposed. The idea was looked upon with horror by a majority of people who could see nothing but desecration of the Sabbath if such a thing should come to pass. When amateur sports were finally allowed on Sunday, these people resigned themselves to their fate and expected to see the world and all its people go to the dogs. No such thing has happened, however. In fact there has been little complaint and a great deal of satisfaction with the Sunday games. They would be greatly missed in the cities and towns where they have been accepted, if discontinued. Quoting in part from the majority report of the Committee on Legal Affairs:

"Amateur sports, authorized by the Legislature in 1920 in a law approved by the then Gov. Coolidge, was opposed by the present opponents of this legislation. Professional baseball has for years been legalized at our national capital, and when in March, 1926, some of the very opponents of this legislation personally urged President Coolidge in Washington to recommend repeal of the legislation permitting professional baseball on Sunday in the capital of the country, President Coolidge refused their request.

It is impossible to realize without consulting our histories, what progress we have made in our laws, during the past century. Many of the old "blue laws" which once were considered necessary and which supposedly were respected, would hardly be tolerated now. Fortunately and wisely most of these antiquated statutes have been either repealed or are universally disregarded. Again quoting from the report of the Committee:

Despite an overwhelming demand on the part of the people of this Commonwealth, who regard this added opportunity for outdoor recreation as a just and reasonable appeal, and feel that opposition to the proposed legislation is an unwarranted infringement upon their rights, a number of individuals, in some instances financially retained, have strenuously opposed the passage of this, or any similar legislation. Though their attitude is undemocratic and hard to understand, it is by no means original.

They and their predecessors have as vigorously protested against the liberalization of certain old colonial laws relating to business and religious affairs, which, nevertheless, in response to the repeated demands of the people of the State, have been from time to time revised or adjusted to meet prevailing conditions.

They or their predecessors have opposed any change in the law which had formerly required compulsory church attendance on the part of all our citizens. Music in the hotels of this State was prohibited, and had the radios been in existence and that law still on the statute books, because of the protest of the Lord's Day League or its predecessors, the delightful music now entering the homes of most of the citizens of our State would still be excluded from the radio. The harmless and restful sport of fishing on Sunday is still prohibited, and golf matches are illegal, with the "greens" fees involved, are under drastic law.

Only in recent years did it become possible for the railroads, over the protest of the Lord's Day League or its predecessors, to run trains on Sundays, or to permit by legislation the manufacture, use, or distribution of steam, gas or water and electricity on Sunday, or make legal on that day, the sale of drugs, cigars, and of ice cream, the letting of horses and of boats, the running of ferry-boats, and the opening of public bathhouses.

They or their predecessors fought for retention upon the statute books of the law which prohibited travel on Sunday for pleasure, and if their liberal views had been maintained the workers of this Commonwealth would have been prevented, even today, from taking his family on the highways on Sundays in an automobile. The publication and sale of newspapers on Sunday would be illegal, and the travel of our people by steamboat or train to the beaches owned and operated by the Commonwealth, would have been denied. They also opposed the legislation that permitted the cultivation on Sunday, of the home garden during the recent World War, when the Nation's appeal for food production was of vital importance to our Nation and to our allies.

The charge that professional baseball interests are the controlling motive of the measure is rather a poor excuse for opposing this act. Unquestionably these interests are anxious to have Sunday baseball legalized. But where is the disadvantage in this? Baseball, as our great national game holds the interest of hundreds of thousands of people in the United States. Many of these people have no opportunity to see a game except on Sunday. Naturally they wish to see the best, for which professional baseball has no substitute. The baseball fans are not compelled to go to the games and pay the admission price; they are entirely willing and anxious to attend. They are willing to pay for this and are undoubtedly getting their money's worth, an afternoon in the fresh air watching good, clean sport. Why the objections? Are the theatres and moving picture houses more in keeping with the spirit of the Sabbath? Then why this narrow-minded attitude?

Undoubtedly, very few of the opponents of the measure are interested in watching or taking part in athletics. Why then should they interfere with the privileges of those who find their only pleasure and recreation in sport. Why should they say "I do not; you must not?"

If this bill is accepted by the legislature it will be effective in cities only after it has been approved by the City Councils, and in towns, only after it has been voted on and accepted by the inhabitants, as in the case of the act permitting amateur sports. It is difficult to see how the passage of such a bill will affect Andover directly, as this town has been slow to see the advantage of permitting amateur sports on Sunday. We have no reason to feel proud of this attitude which shows a decidedly narrow view. Sunday sports are bound to come eventually, as the people are educated to discard ancient and useless ideas and change their habits, adapting themselves to the modern era of living.

At 8.15 Miss Fannie Davis will read a paper on "The Story of Ships from Their Beginning."

The assembly room on the second floor of Memorial hall is a very beautiful room and was designed by the trustees to be used for just such gatherings as that scheduled for April 17. It will be an excellent opportunity for those who have not already seen this portion of the building to do so and a large attendance is anticipated.

The Monday Afternoon Bridge club visited Boston recently. The club had dinner at the Hotel Touraine and then all went in a body to a performance at the Wilbur theatre.

"Art in Everyday Life"

Gerrit A. Beneker, artist, lecturer, and author was the speaker at the regular meeting of the November club held on Monday afternoon.

One of Mr. Beneker's definitions of art was that it was "the employment of means to an end—to the accomplishment of some purpose or use." This point of view was amply and effectively illustrated by the numerous reproductions of portraits of workmen in industry painted by Mr. Beneker. Many of the types were found in the great steel mills, some in the shops of the General Electric company and others among the farmers and fishermen of Cape Cod.

The best known perhaps of Mr. Beneker's paintings is the one reproduced at the time of the World War, 3,000,000 copies of which were circulated as the Victory Loan poster "Sure! We'll Finish the Job."

With his pictures and the accompanying comment Mr. Beneker opened the eyes and minds of his hearers to "the beauty in all things."

At the close of the meeting, tea was served with Mrs. P. B. Whittemore and Mrs. Eugene M. Weeks pouring.

At the brief business meeting which preceded the lecture, the following nominating committee was appointed: Miss Mary Bell, Mrs. Oswald Tower and Mrs. P. Bartlett Whittemore.

The department of literature will meet on Wednesday, April 11, at 3.30 o'clock with Miss Twichell, Bartlett street.

Institute of Government and Social Service

Those who attended the Institute of Government and Social Service conducted by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters with the co-operation of Simmons School of Social Work on Friday, March 30, had a rare opportunity to contrast the financial methods of the East and the West. Dr. Lent Upson, director of the bureau of government research of Detroit, opened the afternoon session with a spirited address on "How Much Social Service Can the Taxpayer Afford?" He is a strong believer in the "pay as you go" plan and dislikes too many bonds which lay the burden of payment on a future generation, a policy indulged in by Detroit.

Charles P. Howard, chairman on Administration and Finance of the State of Massachusetts opened the discussion and explained this State's "pay as you go" plan and it's successful operation, resulting in a 60% reduction of running expenses since 1920. "Massachusetts is easily first among the forty-eight states," he said, "in failing to increase the cost of government since 1915." Others contributing to the discussion were Sanford Bates, Commissioner of Correction, Robert W. Kebo, Boston Council of Social Agencies, and Mrs. Eva Whiting White, Director, Simmons College School of Social Work.

Automobile Turns Over Three Times

Striking sand on a curve on Chandler road, late yesterday afternoon, a machine with its driver and one passenger suddenly veered from its course and turned turtle.

The driver, Albert Ratte of Chandler road, suffered a laceration of the wrist and was treated by a doctor. The occupant, George Duemling, 56, who lives next door to Ratte, suffered a probable fracture of the right leg, laceration of elbows, hands and face and abrasions of his right leg. He was removed to the General hospital and was reported to be resting comfortably at an early hour this morning.

Japanese Dolls to Be Exhibited

Andover is singularly fortunate in being allowed to act as hostess to two of the most famous Japanese dolls. These have been sent to this country by the children of Japan as a token of their appreciation of the dolls given them by the children of the United States.

In Japan the doll occupies a high place. Thousands of years ago March 3rd was a day of purification, according to the creed of Japan. On this day each Japanese was bathed in the river to wash away the sins of the past year. Gradually this custom was so modified that dolls were immersed as a symbolic observance of the purification. Finally even this fell into disuse.

But the doll festival holds its place. It is the principal holiday in the lives of the Japanese children—especially the girls, being looked forward to by them as Christmas by our children. On the evening of March 3rd every Japanese home, rich or poor, where there is a daughter has its formal celebration.

The American dolls were greeted with much ceremony in Japan. At the reception in Tokyo seven princesses of the royal family were in attendance, and among others, the American Ambassador spoke. The dolls were accorded a hearty welcome in every city they visited.

Now we are to have the opportunity of seeing two of the dolls that the Japanese school children are sending in return. They will be on exhibition in the November Clubhouse, Wednesday, April 11, from two until six, and Thursday morning, April 12, from ten until twelve. Admission: for children, ten cents; for adults, twenty cents.

Good Friday Union Service

The annual Good Friday evening service will be held in Christ church on this evening, beginning at 7.45 o'clock. There will be appropriate solos during the service, interpreting the message in music, by two singers whom Andover people know well and like to hear. These soloists will be Everett Collins, baritone, and Leland Gates, tenor. The message of the Cross is interwoven in our life and in this service its universal appeal is emphasized each year by this united observance of Christian churches in Andover. The recitor of Christ church will speak on "The Astonishing Contrasts of the Cross."

The offering will be for the Andover Guild.

Rebekahs Initiate Candidate

BELLEVUE MONUMENTAL WORKS OFFERS SERVICES TO PREPARE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

A Fine Memorial Should Be Placed on Every Grave—Now Is the Time to Attend to This Important Matter—Many Designs from Which to Choose May Be Seen at the Lawrence Plant

A glance at the calendar places Memorial Day, the one day of the entire year devoted by law to the memory of the ones who have passed on, as but two short months away. And what has been done by each of us to make this day one of some real tribute to the dead? For many years, the Bellevue Monumental Works of 64 Manchester street, Lawrence, have been helpful in answering the question for many persons. A fine memorial is what is needed on every grave.

For the person who is alive today there is always the thought that soon death will come, and he considers seriously the matter. Would he not want his loved ones to mark his resting place after death in some fitting manner rather than to leave his dust in an unmarked grave? Every person who has some relative in a grave without a monument should unselfishly consider the matter from both the personal and conventional viewpoints.

Now is the exact time to do this bit of brain work. Memorial Day is fast approaching and by that time the new stone should be

WILLIAM E. REDFERN

Fire Menace To Woods Exists As Leaves Dry Out Rapidly

Carelessness of the nature student coupled with March winds and hot sun rays create a serious fire menace to woods is declared by R. L. Witherell, conservation commissioner.

Mr. Witherell pointed out that fallen leaves are quickly dried out at this time of the year by the strong winds and sun rays and that the hazard to woods is considerably increased through the carelessness of those who tramp the woods and toss from them lighted matches and leave lighted papers and embers after using a fire.

From mid March to the first of May, says Mr. Witherell, there is a season of four to six weeks when brush fires are all too common, many of which, driven by strong breeze, may spread over hundreds of acres of woodland, and cause damage which Nature cannot repair for years.

Even if a burned area appears to be only charred on the ground, there is damage to the base of the trees which weakens their further existence, for the surface burning opens fissures in the bark to admit insect invaders and leads to increasing weakness and early death, or prevents them from becoming normal thrifty specimens.

The soil is affected, too, by the destruction of the cover of vegetable humus, on which plant life largely depends, and even light burnings, yearly repeated, destroy this vegetable soil, and uncover the raw, decomposed rock underneath, which takes many generations of plant life and decay to make livable for herbs and shrubs and trees, and which is liable to swift erosion on slopes which in heavy Spring rains will sadly scar a hillside and force nature to begin all over again.

Furthermore, says Mr. Witherell, the rarer and more delicate wild flowers are damaged by brush fires. The succulent Spring plants, hepatica, bloodroot, trillium, Spring beauty, anemone and fawn lily and the exquisite early orchids, which put their leaf and flower buds through the brown covering of dead leaves, are scorched to death for the season, and may by repeated burnings, be exterminated over such an area. Spring fires tend to destroy the earlier flowers, so that there will be left, about the charred butts of the trees, only those species which arise later, after the fire danger is over; species interesting enough in their Summer associations, but not of the virginal beauty of the April blooms.

Another kind of harm is the destruction of the eggs and young of ground nesting birds, baked in the nest or burned to death when they are helpless to move. Partridge or ruffed grouse are particular sufferers. If Spring comes early and the grouse have started nesting in April, and the month is dry and fire burns over their coverts, one will find clutches of eggs roasted and cracked set in place. Work on stones at the Bellevue Monumental Works is done quickly and well as is the actual erection work, but everything takes time, especially when there is much business to attend to. The thoughtful man will start early to place his order.

Mr. William E. Redfern, proprietor and manager of the Bellevue Monumental Works has made many friends by his advisory work in regard to the choice of stones. Many designs of fine memorials are on display in the well lighted showrooms of the concern where the stones can be viewed in light such as will fall upon them in their actual resting place in the cemetery.

Hundreds of special designs are on file in the office and stones can be made up to these specifications on short notice by the large crew of expert stone cutters maintained at the plant.

So with Memorial Day two short months away the people with serious thoughts of the duty they should do their loved ones will at least look over the stock of the Bellevue Monumental Works. Economy, and character in memorials is the slogan of this concern.

where they were laid. The parents can fly before the flames and escape, and they may start a brood or they may be discouraged for the season. Other ground-living creatures may suffer likewise, especially the young which are born at this time and they may be starved if they escape burning, by the loss of early green forage charred by the fires.

Mr. Witherell urges all who are lured out into the country by the returning Spring be as careful of fires as if they were in their own homes. Picnickers on the roadside in public parks or private woodlands, should build fires only in specified places. It would be better not to build any at all, which would be no hardship, for heat retaining containers take less time and trouble for warm drink or food. If a fire is made, it should be extinguished with plenty of water or earth and care should be taken that no dry leaves or grass plant stalks remain near the embers.

Comparatively New Word

Nowhere has the practice of cheering taken such a place as in America. It has no real analogy at English schools and universities. English crowds, it is said, became familiar with it only about 20 years ago when the New Zealand football team introduced the cries of the Maoris into their matches there. The word cheer in the sense of shout of encouragement or applause is really of recent coinage. The meaning does not appear in Johnson, and Defoe speaks of it as a sailor's word.

Shawsheen Leaguers Banquet

The Shawsheen bowling league finished the season with a banquet in Balmoral hall last night and brought to a successful close their first season on the lanes. The bowlers sat down to a bountiful repast furnished by caterer A. P. Weigel of Lawrence consisting of roast turkey, mashed potatoes, green peas, cranberry sauce, olives, celery, fritters and fruit sauce, fancy ices, cake, cookies and coffee.

James Anderson was president of the league and he acted as master of ceremonies. The entertainment consisted of solos by Thomas Shapcott and Ernest Pearson and readings by John Kinlock. The latter also acted as accompanist.

The Chesterfields, champions of the league, and the Barking Dogs, runners-up, were given bill folders inscribed with their name in gold. James Anderson who had the high average and Ralph Curtin, who had high single string were also presented bill folders. Paul Pomeroy who had the high triple was presented two $2.50 gold pieces. These were donated by John P. Mulholland of Lawrence and Benjamin Babb of the village. W. A. Green won the special prize for the evening, an order of groceries donated by Edward Hill. Appropriate prizes were also awarded to some of the members that they might correct certain faults that were apparent this season.

With the first season closed, the members are already looking forward to another year but are giving great credit to their officers, James Anderson, president; David Rennie, secretary and Phillips Blakes, treasurer who carried on so successfully through the opening year.

The above officers were in charge of the banquet and the entertainment committee consisted of John Phillips, Alfred Greenfield and Ernest Pearson.

Radio Unites Brothers Separated 29 Years

New York.—A cross-continent announcement heard on a radio set, received as a Christmas gift, was the means of reuniting two brothers who had been separated 29 years.

Isidore Gershbarg, a San Francisco pharmacist, received a radio set at Christmas. A few days later he succeeded in tuning in a New York station in time to hear the missing persons bureau of the police department broadcast inquiries for "Isidore Gershbarg," giving the age and description of the missing pharmacist. Dr. Jacob M. Gershbarg was seeking the information.

The pharmacist explained to his friends that Doctor Gershbarg was his brother, whom he had believed to be dead, having heard that he was killed in the Sudan while serving in the medical corps of the French foreign legion.

Isidore, who had settled in San Francisco after returning from service with the United States army in the Philippines, immediately communicated with his brother and hastened to New York for the reunion.

Swede Solves Ancient Runic Script Puzzle

Lund, Sweden.—The ancient runic script of the Vikings chipped in tombstones, recited obituary facts and was believed to possess a magic force for protection of the graves. Prof. Sigurd Agrell of the University of Lund has concluded.

Studying inscriptions on stone slabs dating back to the Third century, Doctor Agrell has decided that the runic letters, like the Roman, had a certain numerical value.

The first letter, he says, was a number two, and the last number was both one and twenty-four, just as an ace is counted as one or thirteen in cards.

ARGYLES LEAD LEAGUE

Displace Go-Getters Who Have Headed Procession Since Fall. Thistles Take Four From Leaders

After leading the Clan Johnston Ladies Auxiliary league since last fall the Go-Getters dropped four points to the lowly Thistles and relinquished first place to the Argyles. With three more weeks to go three teams have still a chance for top honors.

The Thistles hit their highest score of the season, Mrs. R. Meek and Mrs. M. Harris rolling 243 and 241. Miss M. Gordon and Mrs. A. Petrie led with 236 and 234 for the Go-Getters who rolled two dummy scores.

The Argyles dropped one to the Lucky Lindys, Miss E. Valentine hitting 92 and 251. Mrs. M. Christie was high for the Lindys with 82 and 232.

The Airdrieonians kept in the race by taking three from the Blue Bells after winning the first string, which was tied, on the roll-off and the total by one pin. Miss C. Cairnie was high with 95 and 261.

Unhappy Those Whose Hearts Are Wrinkled

A wrinkled face is often beautiful. In the old a smooth face looks unnatural. Wrinkles can tell life stories. They have a charm of their own.

"Never mind about wrinkles on the face," said an old French writer, "but take care that you have not a wrinkled heart."

That was a striking image, says the London Chronicle. The meaning is plain. We all know people whose hearts are wrinkled. They are not people we like or admire.

There is old Mr. Greedy, for example, whose heart has a deep furrow of selfishness across it. He has always thought of himself first; has sought his own advantage and cared nothing for the welfare of others. This is the result.

The heart of the cruel man is notched by a series of horrid marks, almost gashes; that of the lazy man has little flabby dents on it.

"Calais," Queen Mary said, would be found on her heart. On the hearts of everyone of us our thoughts, our passions, our ideals, our endeavors, leave marks faint or strong. Let us beware they do not make ugly marks.

A sorry burden is a wrinkled heart.

Stewards Drub Deacons

The Stewards finished the season in a blaze of glory and took the Deacons, 1928 champions of the Square and Compass Club bowling league, for the full count Tuesday night. The Deacons were without Captain F. A. Christie in all in great form, Captain Batcheller hitting 102 and 291.

The Marshals took three from the Masters and clinched second place. Baker was high with 112 and 296. This match was featured by the contest for the Burns floor lamp in which M. K. Downing and L. R. Kimball both of the Masters were the leading bowlers.

Both were in great form and strikes and spares were common. Each had a good sized handicap and at the close they were tied for the trophy. An extra string was rolled and Ike won 95 to 84. He hit 113 and 284 in the regular match and Downing 103 and 273, record rolling for both this season.

The Tylers kept third place by splitting with the Wardens. G. A. Higgins was high for his team with 264, while Wadman hit 266 for the Wardens.

Final Figures in S. & C. League

The bowling season closed Tuesday for the Andover Square and Compass club rollers and in many respects it was the most successful the club has enjoyed. Competition was close throughout and it was not until the last three weeks that the Deacons were assured of first place. The fight was second, third and fourth places carried right to the final matches with the Marshals, Tylers and Masters finishing in that order.

R. E. Hardy again led the list with 97 52-66 and also had the high single and triple for the season. D. Preston was runner-up with 93 41-66 and G. H. Neilson finally took third place over J. P. Christie. The Marshals, runners-up, had the high team scores with 583 for best single and 1641 for best total.
